Warranty

The following is made in lieu of all warranties expressed or implied including without limitation implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose: seller's only obligation shall be to replace such products proved to be defective because of workmanship. This warranty does not extend to raw materials and components supplied to or any of its subsidiaries or division. Seller shall not be liable for any injury, loss or damage, direct or consequential, arising out of the use of or inability to use the product. Before using, user shall determine the suitability of the product for his intended use and user assumes all risk and liability whatsoever in connection therewith. Safety and permeation data for protective clothing is available upon request. As in almost all instances, we do not know and cannot contact end users of our products, it is therefore, incumbent upon safety distributors to distribute to the end users both Lakeland's and the fabric manufacturer's safety and permeation data and other safety and use information as updated. Such data does not attempt to address all of the safety issues associated with protective garments. Improper use of these garments may result in personal injury or death. Improper use includes, but is not limited to improper selection of a garment for the foreseeable application, use without adequate training, disregard of any warnings and instructions supplied by us or the fabric manufacturer and failure to maintain and inspect the garments. Lakeland and its divisions' protective garments are intended to be used only in conjunction with an organized safety protection program, the requirements of all regulations promulgated by the Environmental Protection Agency and the requirements of OSHA Safety and Health Standard 29 CFR 1910 and other OSHA regulations such as section 1910 et seq., available from the US Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration; or other pertinent national recognized standards, such as those promulgated by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), and the US Coast Guard or the Department of Defense. The foregoing may not be changed except by an agreement signed by an officer of the seller. In all events, we make no warranty of any kind whatsoever, express or implied, an all implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose are hereby disclaimed by us and excluded from any contract.

Payment Remedies, Service Charges, Choice of Law

Payment terms will be net thirty (30) days after shipment of the final assembled products. Except as may be otherwise agreed by the purchaser and the seller in writing, purchaser agrees to pay seller the purchase price for the products set forth herein, which prices are seller's initial shipping point. Purchaser shall bear all applicable federal, state, municipal and other governmental taxes, duties and charges (such as sales, use customs duty and similar charges) and all personal property taxes assessable on the products sold to purchaser. If purchaser is in default with regard to the above payment terms, seller, with or without notice to purchaser, shall have the right to exercise anyone or more of the following remedies, concurrently or separately, and without any election of remedies being deemed to have been made. (A) If purchaser shall fail to make any payments required by the payment terms described above within 15 days of the date thereof, purchaser shall pay to seller a service charge of a day for each day late that payment is overdue; seller may enter upon purchaser's premises and without any court order or other process of law may repossess or remove the products, with or without notice to purchaser. Purchaser hereby waives any trespass or right of action for damages by reason of such entry or removal; seller may require purchaser, at its expense, to return the products in good repair, by delivering it packed and ready for shipment to such place or carrier as seller may specify; seller may sue for and recover from purchaser the sum of all invoices unpaid, including service charges. A sale shall not be effective until shipment and an invoice has been sent by seller. The sale shall be considered to have been made in the state of seller's or its divisions principal place of business and shall be interpreted in accordance with the laws and regulations of the state of seller's or seller's divisions principal place of business. Purchaser agrees to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue in the state of seller's or its divisions principal place of business. In the event any legal action with regard to the sale of any of Lakeland's products to purchaser, purchaser agrees that venue may be laid in the County of seller's or seller's divisions principal place of business; to pursue any other remedy available at law, by statute or in equity; no right or remedy herein conferred upon or reserved to seller is exclusive of any other right or remedy given herein or now or hereinafter existing by law or equity or by statute or otherwise, and may be enforced concurrently therewith or from time to time. No single or partial exercise by seller of any right or remedy hereunder shall preclude any other or further exercise of any right or remedy; in the event of any legal action with respect to the sale of products by seller to purchaser, if seller is the prevailing party in any such action, it shall be entitled to reasonable attorney fees, including attorney fees incurred at the trial level, including action at bankruptcy court, in appeal or review or incurred with actions, suits, or proceedings, together with all costs and expenses incurred in pursuit thereof.

Warning

This catalog contains general descriptions of certain products. While some uses and performance capabilities are described, under no circumstances should the products be used except by qualified, trained personnel, and not until any instructions, labels, or other literature (such as permeation or heat tolerance guides) provided by the fabric manufacturer or this seller have been carefully read and understood and the pre-cautions therein followed. Only they contain the complete and detailed information concerning these products. There are many factors that must be taken into consideration when determining the appropriate level of protection. Consequently, selection of protective clothing must be done by an industrial hygienist or other qualified individual. Permeation and heat tolerance data for protective clothing is available upon request. Permeation data does not attempt to address all of the safety issues associated with limited use garments. Improper use of these suits may result in personal injury or death. Improper use includes, but is not limited to improper selection for the intended or foreseeable use, use without adequate training, disregard of any warnings and instructions supplied by the fabric manufacturer and failure to inspect, maintain and repair the garments. The garment is intended to be used only in conjunction with an organized safety protection program, the requirements of all regulations promulgated by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), and the requirements of OSHA Safety and Health Standard 29 CFR 1910 available from the Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health Administration; or other pertinent nationally recognized standards, such as those promulgated by the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA), the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM), and the Coast Guard or the Department of Defense. Tyvek, Tyvek laminates, Polypropylene, Rytex, the Tychem Series, and Barricade are not intended for use as fire-retardant garments. These garments should not be used around heat, flame, sparks nor in potentially flammable or explosive environments. Permeation data, melting points and ignition temperatures for Tyvek, Tyvek laminates and Barricade are available from the fabric manufacturer.
